ANY GENTLEMAN MAY ATTEND THE DESPLAND BASEBALL BANQUET

RESERVATIONS SHOULD BE MADE BY TOMORROW NIGHT—PROTEST REGISTERED WITH F. E. C. RAILWAY MANAGER.

At the board of trade meeting on Thursday night, S. E. Bullard directed attention to the alleged dirty and unsightly condition of some of the public conveniences at the Florida East Coast passenger station, and recommended that a protest be forwarded to the proper official in authority. There was no intent to criticize the manager of the local agency of the railroad. The main object is to get, if possible, better facilities looking to the public comfort and more nearly perfect sanitation. Secretary Benford Deacon was instructed to bring the matter before the F. E. C.'s general manager, Morton Riddle.

Another act of the board—perhaps the most important one of the meeting—was the appointment of a committee of one to represent the trade body in the formal reception of the Brooklyn baseball club and at the banquet to be given in the players' honor at the Hotel Despland, next Monday night. The club will arrive some time Monday afternoon, and in addition to a delegation of board of trade members, committees of citizens and Elks will meet it at the railway station.

To correct the erroneous impression obtaining in certain quarters that only Elks are eligible to participate in the Despland baseball banquet, Michael Soliz directed the attention of the board of trade and that of the general public to the fact that any citizen of the locality or any visitor will be welcomed. In fact, it is desired to have as large a number of attendants as possible at the banquet. The price per plate has been fixed at two dollars, and persons expecting to attend are requested to make their reservations no later than Saturday night.

A suggestion, offered by E. F. Ludlow and others, that steps be taken to secure the placing of "school signs" at street crossings to indicate the near proximity of public schools—was received with favor, and it is likely that the municipal council will be asked to take action in that direction.

In the absence of the president, Geo. H. Clark, the meeting was presided over by W. G. Nash, who made a most excellent job of the undertaking. Not many members were present, owing, perhaps, to the temporary change of routine night from Friday to Thursday.

ENTERTAINED WITH ONE OF SERIES OF CARD PARTIES

Mrs. Harriet A. Caswell entertained Thursday afternoon with one of a series of card parties. Bridge was the main, and four tables were engaged at the pretty South Ridgewood home of Mrs. Caswell. First prize was won by Mrs. E. T. Conrad, second went to Mrs. Holroyd, and third was secured by Mrs. E. F. Oates. Following the game dainty light refreshments were served.

French soldiers serving at the front are now allowed to marry by proxy.

PALMETTO CLUB HEARS MR. WATROUS LECTURE ON "GARDEN CITIES"

LAST MEETING IN CHARGE OF CIVIC DEPARTMENT—PLEASING MUSICAL PROGRAM—ANOTHER LECTURE TONIGHT.

At the regular meeting of the Palmetto club on Thursday, February 25th, the civic department took full charge of the program, and the large audience that gathered at the Orange avenue club house testified to the interest of the members of the club in the civic work. Prior to turning the meeting over to the chairman of the civic department, several announcements were made by the president of the club, Mrs. M. L. Stanley.

The lecture by Richard B. Watrous at the New Daytona theater, this evening, was announced. It was also stated that Mr. Rich, the Chicago architect, will have the plans and specifications for remodeling the club house ready by March 20th.

Miss Margaret Rhodes, chairman of the civic department, then took charge of the program of the day, which was opened by two exquisite piano numbers, entitled "Soaring," by Schumann, and a "Prelude," by Rachmaninoff, rendered in a most finished manner by Miss Stagg. In response to insistent applause the charming young pianist gave an encore. Mrs. Ramsey sang a double number, "All for You," by Guy d'Hardelet, and "Robin and I," by C. S. Briggs, in her sweet contralto voice, which never fails to delight her hearers. Her accompaniments were played in a pleasing manner, by Mrs. M. Huston.

Richard B. Watrous, secretary of the American Civic association, was then introduced by Miss Rhodes. The speaker of the day prefaced his address with a few well chosen words expressing his pleasure in being in Daytona and in appearing before such a representative audience of civic workers. His theme was "Garden Cities," and it was presented in a manner that pleased all his hearers.

He told of the trip abroad of members of the American Civic association to study conditions in Europe, where congestion of population in cities is so much greater than in America. Germany was considered first; and the fact brought out that most of the people in German cities seem to prefer to live in large apartment houses. There are no suburban districts in Berlin, but an abrupt change from closely built up streets to farms. About Dresden are some suburban districts, where semi-detached villas may be had.

Near Essen, the Pittsburgh of Germany, is a very remarkable garden city of 700 acres, approached by a beautiful bridge. This town was planned by a noted German architect who utilized all the natural beauties of the place and adapted his plans for streets and houses to the topography of the region, the houses being constructed of red brick with their narrow gables turned toward the streets, which are flagged. It was planned to surround this village with trees, which should be maintained and utilized for paying the expense of the municipal government and eventually eliminate taxes.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
LECTURE BY BICKNELL
YOUNG, C.S.B., CHICAGOMEMBER BOARD OF LECTURE-
SHIP OF THE MOTHER CHURCH,
THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST,
SCIENTIST, BOSTON, MASS.

Bicknell Young, C. S. B., member of the board of lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., delivered an interesting address before a large audience, Thursday evening, in the Palmetto club house on Orange avenue, taking "Christian Science" for his subject. Mr. Young gave a brief history of the church and explained some of the main tenets of the faith, being accorded close attention by his hearers. The lecturer spent several years abroad to better fit himself to speak on Christian Science, and only recently returned to this country to go upon the lecture platform for the church.

Mr. Young's address was, in part, as follows:

Ordinary systems of education accept the evidence of the senses as man's being and destiny, and in so doing tend to perpetuate the destructive conditions of human experience. Ordinarily accepted religious views also coincide with such teaching, for they inculcate the idea that when evil has finally overcome a human being and destroyed him, then he will be immortal. None of these systems hold out the hope that there will ever be any present evidence of the destruction of evil and the triumph of the human being, but on the contrary all agree in accepting the evidence of the senses which indicate the destruction of man and the triumph of evil.

Now whatever may be thought of Christian Science from the standpoint of old education, it has the unquestionable advantage of being logical and consistent. It shows unmistakably that a human being, however much of a sinner he may be, needs to be redeemed rather than destroyed, and that it is the proper business of both science and religion to heal him of his disease and to redeem him from his sins so unmistakably that both the healing and the redemption shall appear.

The True Is Available.

There has never been anything true that was not available to mankind or would not have been if they had been enough awake to perceive that it was true. Truth has always existed.

What then is the Christ that is to save us, if we are all to be saved through Christ? It is the Christ that was with Jesus, the Christ, which enabled him to save others, and enabled the disciples to save others, from what? From something that God had afflicted them with? Materially, limitation, fears, diseases, sins, death? No, it was to save them from that which God never gave them at all. That which God had given them they did not need to be saved from—that which human ignorance allotted to the human race is what we all need to be saved from, and Christ comes and ever will come in thought through power, through ideas that reveal God, to save us from those things until those things shall be no more, and step by step awakening more in the image of good, we shall find eventually that we are not human but naturally divine; and that is salvation.

Christian Science Explains.

Nobody has been asked to believe in Christian Science, and nobody ever will be asked to believe in it, for Christian Science does not advocate a proselyting process, but explains a divine principle. I should no more think of urging a person to believe in Christian Science than I should think of asking him to believe in the multiplication table. Neither one nor the other is in the realm of belief. We are not giving Christian Science lectures for the purpose of asking people to believe in it; we are giving Christian Science lectures because we want to help mankind, and we want to help mankind because we want to help ourselves, and have realized that the best way to help ourselves is to help others. No human being can be selfish and ever put off mortality. For one to attain immortality, which is the natural heritage that God has provided for all, we shall have to be unselfish. Jesus did not voice a mere religious admonition but a scientific necessity when he gave the rule, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." He also said, "Deny thyself and follow me."

God and Power One.

It takes a great deal of instruction to convince the average human being that the word "God" does not mean something remote or inaccessible. Now we can think certain ideas which reveal God. We have seen that here. These ideas reveal power because God and power are one. They are God with us, and therefore power with us. On the other hand, we can think of our bodies, and as a matter of fact we think of them a great deal too much. Nevertheless, so long as that is our tendency, it ought not to be difficult for us to recognize that the true thought of what God is may effect our bodies, since some kind of thought is doing something to our bodies all the time. We walk because of mind; and talk and think, and wink our eyes, because of mind, and do everything else we are doing because of mind, and we do absolutely nothing because of matter, for matter cannot think nor talk nor walk by itself when thought is absent.

Influence of Thought.

To recognize the nature and action of thought is educational. To arouse or awaken a human being to the necessity for correct thinking and the power to attain it as a habit, is the object of all true religious and philosophical endeavor. For this reason it is universally recognized that in order to produce good moral results it is necessary that moral teaching should be carried on, and in accordance with this necessity people are taught to guard themselves against evil thoughts, whether audible or silent. Is there not the same necessity to guard against the thoughts of disease? What must then be the conclusion as to the present effort made through the press and elsewhere to instill the belief of disease into children, and others, by means of processes that are called educational?

If it were not obvious that such efforts are basically wrong the results of the last ten years prove them to be so. The advocates of such systems themselves admit that the diseases, which such so-called education was aimed to mitigate or destroy, have increased enormously in that decade, and any one who has observed carefully the influence of thought in human history should have no difficulty in perceiving that such results would necessarily follow such a wrong system; for, if one is to learn about disease and the constantly shifting theories which characterize medical science in order to guard himself against disease, if one is to be forced to build up in his own thought images of disease and germs and microbes and bacilli through the use of charts and experiments in the laboratory and other means in order to be healthy, why would it not be as necessary to familiarize the young, and others, with all the vices and sins that characterize depravity, in order that they may thereby gain in virtue and morality?

If it be true, as experience has proved beyond any doubt, that moral education and high ideals tend to improve character, why is it not equally true that the inculcation of true ideas as to the origin, cause and law of being tends to improve health, and that contrary teaching tends to produce disease?

Notwithstanding the somewhat common notion that Christian Scientists oppose sanitation and hygiene, the fact is that they are enthusiastic believers in, and advocates of both. Scrupulous cleanliness in everything is a rule among those who practice Christian Science. They require not only personal cleanliness but clean air, clean food, clean streets, clean water, clean clothing, clean houses, and that everything be clean with which they may be associated or surrounded. And when all this is done, Christian Scientists are still unsatisfied, for Christian Science shows that little has been accomplished in the nature of true hygiene, and very little that is worthy of the name of sanitation, until the human mind itself is cleaned out and kept clean.

Jesus stated this fact more strongly than any one else could, and Christian Science practice has proved conclusively that to the extent that the human mind is emptied of fear, malice, envy, hatred, revenge, evil thinking, evil speaking, and all the beliefs of vice and sin and disease, just to that extent is a true sanitary system being established. And furthermore, Christian Science has proved in innumerable instances that when such a system of hygiene, purely mental, is established, all of the world's hygienic requirements are more than fulfilled, and just in that proportion also is the law of health unmistakably and permanently established, both individually and collectively.

The human body never gets ill because of any inherent capacity to do so. To put it exactly as it is, the human body does not know enough to suffer. Deprived of mind it never suffers. In Science and Health and her other works, Mrs. Eddy has most clearly set forth the fact that it is the human or mortal sense of things that suffers. The mortal mind, so-called, is the sufferer, and she has enabled thousands of people through her books to prove that Immortal Mind heals. The objection made to this is often to the effect that you cannot have thought without a thinker, and this contention is based upon the supposition that a person is a thinker by means of a mind which he contains. Christian Science shows that Mind is infinite, cannot be contained. The divine Mind is the primary and only thinker. When we learn to think with that Mind which Mrs. Eddy in Science and Health declares to be the only Mind of man, then what we call our mind will be so purified and regenerated as to manifest the omnipotence of good in healing the sick as well as in saving the sinner.

Mrs. Eddy's Discovery.

If a human being uninstructed by Christian Science should hear of a wonderful machine to which he could report at any time and have it work in his behalf to remove his evil tendencies and any of his diseases, he would be lost in admiration at this extraordinary invention and he would exclaim "What a wonderful scientific discovery!" It goes without saying that no such machine has been discovered or will be, for the simple reason that diseases and sins are too deep seated to be reached by any mechanical means. There was something, however, discovered in the year 1866 by a lone New England woman whose thought was clear enough to perceive facts far more scientific than any which had been revealed through the evidence of senses, and who was strong enough of purpose to set forth these thoughts in such a way that they could be discerned and practiced, which was of far greater importance to the human race than any other discovery that has ever been made. Christian Science as given to the world by Mary Baker Eddy is not less scientific because it is not mechanical or material, and it has the advantage of healing the diseases considered incurable, a thing which no material or mechanical thing could do.

One who really apprehends anything of Truth knows that it is mental and that being without beginning or end or any kind of measurement, it must be progressive in our experience. The application of it cannot even be formulated, and go far from being mechanical, is it, that the preception of today is but the stepping-stone to the greater understanding of tomorrow. The thought which constitutes the healing process of Christian Science is not less scientific because of its progressive nature, on the contrary, it is more scientific on that account since it is more spontaneous and original. The divine Mind, as we apprehend it more and more, means to us necessarily the very acme of originality. There is no limit to the possibilities of the enlightenment which the study and practice of Christian Science entails. For this reason no formulas are possible in the mental processes of Christian Science healing.

The discoverer and founder of Christian Science brought to light that which was promised when Jesus said "He will send you the comforter, even the spirit of truth, to abide with you forever." It is this knowledge of the impersonal Saviour or Christ Truth which constitutes both the Science and the Christianity of Christian Science. If Mrs. Eddy had stopped at the discovery of Christian Science, hundreds of thousands of people could not say, as they now do say, that they are grateful for Christian Science. The wonderful thing that she did for mankind was to discern the method of Christian Science, by means of which any person can begin the transforming process which St. Paul speaks of, and by means of which one demonstrates in some degree the true relationship of God and man, by recognizing its present reality and availing himself of its law.

We are apt to think of revelation as something imposed upon man by God, but a more consistent understanding of the word shows that its meaning is best apprehended when one understands it naturalness. That Mary Baker Eddy was inspired when she discovered and set forth the truth of Christian Science cannot be doubted, and yet that inspiration, that revelation, required first receptivity.

It was this readiness, this ceaseless responsiveness to divine Mind which

A thousand-acre grove of orange and grapefruit trees is a wonderful thing. Such a grove has been made but once in the history of Florida. It is located at Lucerne Park, in Polk County, and is recognized as the finest accomplishment in the citrus development of the state. The men who built this grove are now engaged in making an even finer one, twice as large, at Mountain Lake, some ten miles away.

The tract is located in the heart of the famous citrus belt of the lake region of Florida, comprises over 2,500 acres. It is uniformly fertile, beautifully rolling and splendidly located as regards transportation. The grove making will be along the most efficient lines, and the property will be laid out by a landscape architect of international reputation. Lovely winter homesites will fringe the lake shores, dot the sides of Iron Mountain and crown the adjacent elevations.

The groves will be planted and sold in ten-acre units. The land will be cleared and planted, the trees cared for and cultivated and all necessary attention given the groves for five years. This part of the development will be under the direction of M. E. Gillett & Son, the world's foremost citrus experts, who have made many of Florida's greatest groves, including those at Lucerne Park. They have also assumed the selling agency for the properties.

The landscape work will be done by Frederick Law Olmsted, of Brookline, Mass. Mr. Olmsted was associated with his father, the leading landscape architect of his day, in planning Biltmore Estate. He has to his own credit much notable landscaping, including Roland Park in Baltimore and Forest Hills Gardens, Long Island. At Mountain Lake he will conserve the natural beauties without interference with the economic features.

The Mountain Lake Corporation commands respect because of the standing of the gentlemen who compose it. Among the leading stockholders are the following:

FRANK S. WASHBURN, president American Cyanamid Company, Niagara Falls, Ont., president Alabama Power Company, Birmingham, Ala.
JAMES MITCHELL, president Alabama Traction, Light & Power Company, Ltd., New York and London.
HARVEY E. GOODMAN, vice-president and general manager Goodman Manufacturing Company, electrical mining machinery, Chicago, Ill.

ELMER A. SPERRY, president Sperry Gyroscope Company, New York.
M. E. GILLETT AND D. C. GILLETT, proprietors of Buckeye Nurseries and Gillett Lumber & Transportation Company, Tampa, Florida.
E. C. STRAIN, vice-president State Bank of Bartow, Bartow, Fla., director Coronet Phosphate Company, Lakeland, Fla.
FREDERICK S. ROTH, president Mountain Lake Corporation, Lake Wales, Fla.

A preliminary booklet, now ready for distribution, gives the plans much more in detail. Copy will be mailed on application and further particulars supplied upon request.

characterized her whole career and made her the leader of the most far-reaching religious and scientific movement that the world has known. It was this same responsiveness which has made Christianity a science resulting in such untold benefits to mankind that thousands of people spontaneously reverence and love the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy.

To Save an Egg.

When eggs are broken and cannot be used at once, they will keep much better if the shells are removed and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt is beaten in for each egg.

There was an actual reduction of more than 600 in the number of employees injured to the slightest degree on the Lehigh Valley Railroad last year. Figuring on accidents which compelled employees to lose three or more days from work, officials of the road report that there was also a corresponding decrease.

ARRIVALS OF A DAY

AT HOTEL CLARENDON

Recent arrivals at the big hotel include A. C. Tozzer, New York city; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Morton, Boston, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Storer, Toledo, Ohio; L. B. Kranska, Moosup, Conn.

Late arrivals at the big resort by the sea include Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clancy, Amsterdam, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Darby, Cincinnati, O.; Mr. and Mrs. James L. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. Walker, Miss Miriam D. Walker, New York city; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuhlman, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Cleveland, Philadelphia; William H. Herrick, Providence, R. I.; and John I. Devlin, of the same city.

Many of the above guests have been further south during January, and the greater part of February, and are now on their way back north, yet some of them expect to remain at the big resort for a fortnight at least. This does not signify that there is any apparent let-up to the travel southward, for the past week has witnessed the registration of as many people as on any previous week since the big rush first began. Business in the north has been such this winter that thousands of business men have not been able to get away at all, and other thousands have been forced to put off their trip south until after the latter part of the season.

Holy War Not Probable.

I am of opinion that unless you could bray Christianity in a mortar, and mold it into a new paste, there is no possibility of a holy war.—Bacon.

BLAINE ELKINS RETURNED

TO WASHINGTON TUESDAY

Blaine Elkins, of Washington, D. C., who has been a guest at the Clarendon for the past two weeks, returned to the capital city on Tuesday. While here Mr. Elkins spent much of his time in company with Paul L. McKeel, they being very warm friends. They spent a week seeing the sights in Havana and Palm Beach, and the balance of Mr. Elkins' time was spent in attending social affairs for the 'most part provided by Mr. McKeel and his large circle of friends at Ormond and Seabreeze.

GAVE FAREWELL PARTY

AND LEFT FOR NEW ORLEANS

C. L. Ritter and C. W. Watts, of Huntington, W. Va., who have been members of the exclusive social set at Hotel Clarendon for some time past, departed Thursday for New Orleans. The gentlemen gave a farewell party in the grill Wednesday night, that was attended by several friends and acquaintances, all of whom are members of the winter colony at Seabreeze. Messrs. Ritter and Watts enjoyed their visit here immensely and went away feeling that their time at the big resort had been well spent.

ENJOY LUNCHEON AT THE BIG SEASIDE RESORT

At this particular time in the season there are scores of winter residents and tourists stopping at various places adjacent to Seabreeze who auto over to Hotel Clarendon for luncheon and dinner in the evening. Thursday's hotel register showed an unusually large number of such persons taking luncheon, who enjoyed a brief visit at the hotel, and spent a greater part of the day on the beach and at the golf links. Included in the extra list were Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Chase and son, Sanford, Fla.; Mrs. C. B. Adamson, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. H. W. Anderson, New Hampshire; Mrs. D. R. Brower, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vinning and Dr. and Mrs. Cameron, Ormond.

Miss Loretta McCain, of Freeport, Conn., and Mrs. George A. Chalfont and Miss Julia Hickey, of Pittsburg, Pa., were among those who took luncheon at Hotel Clarendon on Thursday.

BIG BASEBALL GAME

AT ORMOND TODAY

Clarendon meets Ormond on the baseball diamond at the latter place today. It is expected that an unusually large crowd will be on hand to witness the game, and adequate bus provisions have been made to accommodate all who wish to go up and see the battle.

Obstacles Everywhere.

Life is like walking along a crowded street; there always seem to be fewer obstacles to getting along on the opposite pavement; and yet if one crosses over matters are rarely mended.—Thomas Huxley.

DAUBERT IN SHOOTING CONTEST AT READING

By JAKE DAUBERT.

I've often read about ball players wishing they could play continuous baseball, and I've heard of a few that do play all winter long and then play the regular season in the summer, and perhaps they like it, but not for mine. I'm always glad when the baseball seasons opens, but I'm just as glad when it closes. For when the curtain goes down on the last act I'm off with my bat bag in one hand and my gun case in the other. I put the bat bag away in the trunk and I clean the gun, and it doesn't take me many hours to look passage for a nice quiet place where I can hunt, and hunt to my heart's content.

If I thought that I couldn't get out in the fall and winter and put the old gun to my shoulder and bang away
at something I don't believe I'd be able to play a good game of ball during the summer. That's a fact. I simply love the old sport of hunting, and I find that the way with a great many of my friends who are ball players. Take this fall for instance.
Just as soon as the game season opened I was Jonny-on-the-spot and I stuck to it until just a few weeks ago. Now I take up my other favorite winter sport, which is trap shooting.

"You know there is a lot in common between shooting and playing baseball. You have to have a keen eye in both sports, and I think the one helps in the other. And of all branches of shooting, trap shooting is the one that requires the most expert use of one's eyes, though steady nerves count just as much. A week ago I entered a tournament at Irwin, Pa., against a field of twenty-nine expert shooters. At first I thought I would be lucky if I got in the money at all.
The shooters were all cracks and to me, who makes trap shooting but a recreation, it looked as if I was in for a good drubbing. But I surprised myself by having my shooting eye with me, just as a ball player sometimes surprises himself in the spring by having his batting all tuned up and able to pick out the best from the assortment of any pitcher. I won first money in the shoot and am so satisfied with the result, that I am going to take a chance tomorrow at the big shoot in Reading, Pa. If the old eye and the nerves are there like they were a week ago, I ought to cop first money again.

"Of course I can look back on the days when I didn't do much shooting
in the winter and very little hunting.
Mainly because I didn't have the time. That was when I was breaking into the game. You know I have only been playing ball, professionally since 1906. That was the year I broke out with the Kane, Pa., club of the Interstate league. I'll never forget how I went into that game hoping that I would make good so that some day I would get into the major leagues and be able to do just what I am at pres-

WINTER RESIDENT DIES IN NORTH

E. T. MERRILL PASSES AWAY AT PORTLAND, ME.—LEFT HERE RECENTLY WHEN HOPE OF RECOVERY WAS ABANDONED.

Dr. E. C. Atwood is in receipt of a letter from Rev. W. P. Merrill, conveying information of the death of his brother, Edward Taylor Merrill, which occurred at Portland, Maine, last Saturday, February 20th.

This news will be learned with regret by the many friends in this city and vicinity of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill who have been spending the winters in Daytona for many years and were at one time regular winter residents, owning a home on South Ridgewood avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill came to Daytona the past fall as usual and occupied the W. P. Merrill residence on Volusia avenue. Mr. Merrill had been in failing health for some time and continued to grow gradually worse, and it was finally decided to take him back to Portland, as no hope was entertained of his recovery. Rev. W. P. Merrill came to Daytona a few weeks ago and accompanied his brother and Mrs. Merrill on the trip north.

The widow, Rev. and Mrs. W. P.

Merrill and other relatives will have the sympathy of many friends here in their bereavement.

NO CONCERT THIS EVENING BY THE SARACINA BAND

There will be no concert by the Saracina band this evening. This statement is made to prevent disappointment to persons who might otherwise await the band at the kiosk.

Mrs. W. S. Emily, of Philadelphia, Pa., a sister-in-law of Mrs. C. H. Lane of this city, arrived Thursday evening and will spend a month or more here with Mr. and Mrs. Lane at their home on Ivy Lane. This is Mrs. Emily's first visit to Daytona.

HOLLY HILL

HOLLY HILL, Feb. 26.—A meeting was held at the school house last Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing a "Parents' and Teachers' League." Mrs. D. C. Clifton was elected president, and Mrs. Geo. Morris, vice-president, and Miss Beattie Quattlebaum, secretary. W. H. Edmondson, chairman of the board of trustees for the school, gave a talk, after which Supt. C. R. M. Sheppard gave an address. He commended the people of Holly Hill for forming this association.
The meeting closed with a spelling match between the school children.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Roland were given a house-warming by some of their friends last Saturday evening in their new cottage on the river front.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edmondson are enjoying a visit from the latter's brother-in-law, M. C. Phillips, of Chicago.

Edwin Peterson has returned after spending a few days in Pierson with his people.

C. A. Parker left Friday morning in his car for St. Petersburg. He was accompanied by his brother, John Parker, and George Carter and John Penny.

CHILDS PLEASED WITH DAYTONA'S PROSPECTS

Arthur E. Childs, president of the Daytona Public Service company, after spending several days in this locality, left Thursday for Atlanta, where he will remain for a brief time. Mr.
Childs expressed himself as highly pleased with local business conditions
and with Daytona's bright prospects for a prosperous future. He anticipates that the city will enjoy a steady, substantial growth henceforth.

"Realizing that a number of the Public Service company's old customers are likely to become patrons of the new competing company," said Mr.
Childs, "and desiring to manifest our appreciation of the business given us by them in the past, I suggest that they allow the old connections and meters to remain as they are, for a time, as the very best regulated plants are not immune from accidents and incidents which precipitate occasional emergencies."

Mr. Childs expressed the belief that business conditions throughout the country are gradually improving, following the violent readjustment process necessitated by the European war.

When he left for Atlanta, Mr. Childs did not know whether or not he would have an opportunity to come back to Daytona before proceeding to his home in Boston.

the Congregational manse on South Palmetto avenue, having come to Daytona Thursday afternoon from St.
Petersburg where they had been spending the season. They are on their return to Dwight and came here at the solicitation of Mr. Drew, who was desirous of having them see Daytona.

PALMETTO CLUB HEARS MR. WATROUS LECTURE

In England the best results have been obtained near London, Liverpool and Birmingham. There are three classes of garden cities; real garden
cities which provide both employment and houses in one location, notably Letchworth, 40 miles from London;
residential regions on outskirts of cities; and those outside cities, but within reach of those employed in cities. Letchworth and Hampstead are good examples of towns built from plans made out in advance, with well-defined zones of residences, business and municipal buildings. One of the stipulations is that the houses must be built to last 60 years, and the buildings and grounds must be kept in good condition by the tenants.

John Burns, the great labor leader,
was the first president of the general

board for town planning in Great Britain, and provision has been made by law for systematic town planning in England.

Developing from this, the International Town Planning and Garden Cities association was organized, and is now endeavoring to formulate plans for rebuilding Belgium in a systematic manner; but the pressing need of the people to get back to living conditions may defeat these plans, as was the case after the San Francisco disaster, when impatience and necessity prevented the use of plans already prepared by Burnham, of Chicago.

American plans for garden cities are yet in their infancy, except for a few in the higher walks of life, but the trend of the times seems to indicate that the congestion now prevailing in the great cities must bring a back-to-the-country movement, which will work great good physically to the coming race, and it is to educate and inspire the people with a love and desire for the best in architecture and artistic setting, and in making the most of natural beauties, that those interested in garden cities are working.

Mr. Watrous delighted his hearers,
and he is assured of a large and appreciative audience this evening when he speaks at the New Daytona theater

on the subject, "The Town of Tomorrow."

In conclusion, Mrs. Ramsey sang again most delightfully, "Could I," by Tosti, and an Irish love song by Margaret Ruthven Lang. Mrs. Laura Balcom and Mrs. J. H. Niver were hostesses of the day.

Destroy "Haunted" Mansion.
Congers, N. Y.—Declaring that the old Krause mansion was haunted, a mob set fire to it. Then they cut two lines of hose and assaulted several firemen who were fighting the blaze.
The mansion was destroyed.

SWISS CONSUL IS SARCASTIC

Touch of Humor in Ostensible Confirmation of Startling Statement Sent Out From Rome.

Turin.—It is refreshing to meet with a bit of official humor nowadays, such as was furnished recently by the Swiss consul at Turin, Herr George Lang. The Gazzetta del Popolo having printed a correspondence from Rome giving positive assurance of the existence of a secret treaty between Switzerland and Austria, according to which Swiss troops were to occupy Piedmont and Lombardy, Consul Lang published next day in the Stampa a conspicuous advertisement ostensibly confirming the truth of the statement and adding: "I am in a position to inform the public that at the well-known restaurant Cova, at Milan, the menu for the dinner of the Swiss general staff has already been ordered, while lieutenants and subaltern officers will dine at Biffa's (a restaurant of the second class). Private soldiers are to camp on the Piazza del Duomo, where for the noon meal they will be served with all the canards which the correspondent of the Gazzetta del Popolo has sent into the air at Rome."

Those rooms should be rented; that furnished house let. Try a want ad in this department.

LARGE CROWD HEARD HERSHEY'S LECTURE

Dr. S. Byron Hershey, of Washington, D. C., delivered his great lecture on "We—the War—and Whither?" in the auditorium of the Methodist church last night to an audience that filled both wings and required extra chairs for seating.

He gave reasons that made the war possible; placed the responsibility on the entire civilized world; arraigned "militarism" as the cause of it; declared it is now time for the churches to go to work to educate public thought against the possibility of another war, in a great evangelical move which would sweep away forever the heresy that "might is right."

The speaker expressed the hope that the United States, working through The Hague conference, would take the lead in establishing peace on so just a basis that the present war will be the last war the world will ever witness.

Dr. Hershey said many splendid things in the course of his lecture, some of which presented substance for new thought for his hearers. He showed up militarism as a huge monster devouring the substance and brain and brawn of the European countries.

in the enormous taxes it takes to support the standing armies, and arraigned our own country in that the government carried a war budget 18,000,000 times larger than for education. And then he questioned, who was responsible for this state of affairs? The inevitable answer was, the tax payers—those who consented to it.

Dr. S. P. Leland, of Daytona, acted as chairman of the evening. He was introduced by Dr. Robt. S. Holmes, president of the tourist class, under whose auspices the lecture was given. Dr. Leland and Dr. Hershey are friends "of ye olden days," having worked on the same lecture course for many years in the great state of Ohio, and it was fitting that the speaker of the evening should be introduced by Dr. Leland. The introduction was made in Dr. Leland's usual happy way.

ENTERTAINED AT BRIDGE WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

There were 28 ladies present, occupying seven tables, and the prizes were won by Mrs. A. D. S. Johnston, first, and Miss Elizabeth V. Stamm, second. At five o'clock delicious refreshments were served in the dining room, which was beautifully decorated with palms and cut flowers.

Apologies of the bad effects of business on the health, a millionaire contractor, said in a Y. M. C. Host's Bad Break.

High society has its crude personalities, it is a story in one of the magazines is true. At a dinner given to the famous pianist, Liszt, his host, Count Ludolf, right in the middle of Liszt's most exquisite playing, "said in a loud voice, if anyone wishes to have a game of whist, there are tables in the other room." Liszt, says the narrator, stopped short, but as no one moved he consented amiably to remain at the piano. The amount of wine that had been consumed by Liszt's host on this occasion is not stated.

BELLIGERENTS IGNORE INTERNATIONAL LAW

UNITED STATES DRAWN INTO MALESTROM OF CONFLICTING IDEAS AND DIVERSE INTERESTS WITH ENGLAND AND GERMANY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The moves in the "war game" during the past ten days have strained the American neutrality to a point undreamed of in the opening stages of the conflict. Who would have prophesied that the American flag would ever fly from the masthead of the Lusitania six months ago? Such a prophet would have been deemed fit for the madhouse. Who would have thought that American ships, plying a peaceful trade in British shores, would ever have run the risk of being sent to "Davy Jones' Locker" by one of Germany's submarines? Such a thing has come to pass. Truly, in the words of the high-brow, "these be perilous times."

The truth is that the interests of the United States are so commingled with those of the belligerents that it is difficult to mark out the line of cleavage between them. Great Britain has been brought to the point where she will strain every technical point in international law in her favor. Germany, feeling the grip of English sea power, is playing the daring game, showing the spirit of the plunger who is willing to win or lose all on the stake of a single throw. The United States, in the past ten days, has been brought face to face with the fact that in war, even in modern war, even the shadow of civilized intercourse between belligerents fall away, that international law is as nothing as against the law of "stern necessity," that force, in the long run, is the only thing that counts in the winning of the struggle.

The seizure of the Wilhelmina by the British authorities opens an entirely new complication in connection with the war. It means that Great Britain is now exercising the right to purchase food supplies ostensibly bound for the civilian population of Germany. She bases her action in the fact that Germany has commandeered all her domestic foodstuffs; that is, she has seized all the supplies of her citizens on the ground that the nation, acting as a unit, can manage them more efficiently and more economically than private individuals can. Great Britain therefore reasons that no charge of foodstuffs bound for Germany, even if ostensibly sent to a private consignee, can be guaranteed against use by the warring forces of the German empire. They are placed in the hands of the government as soon as they arrive on German shores. It is true that the Bundesrath has specifically denied that any of the imported foodstuffs will be used for the national military forces, but such a denial will not satisfy Great Britain.

"What is the difference," says the British foreign office, in effect, "between foodstuffs bound for German soldiers and foodstuffs to be used by reservists who will be on the fighting line next month? There is no difference, in effect. All the laws relating to contraband will have to be rewritten before the war is over."

Germany is prepared to dispute this doctrine to the utmost, and the first signs of the coming storm are now visible upon the horizon. The United States will inevitably be drawn into the vortex of dispute. First, because it is of direct significance to American trade; second because the spectacle of "Great Britain deliberately starving the civilian population of Germany" is certain to arouse a storm of protest in this country from certain sources. The friction already engendered over the detention and seizure of certain American cargoes bound for neutral ports is certain to increase when the blockade of German ports becomes complete.

On the other hand, Germany has declared all the shores of Great Britain a "war zone" and her submarines are cruising around already, after February 18, to send all British merchantmen to the bottom of the sea. The danger to American shipping is by no means merely academic, especially since it has become evident that British steamships will throw the submarines off their trail, as far as possible, by raising neutral flags when in the danger zone. The United States does not view this practice with equanimity, and has protested against it. The protest probably will be effective, but the Germans, on the strength of the Lusitania and Orduna incidents, already have abundant justification for declaring that all ships flying the American flag are under suspicion, and a "mistake" may be made by the captain of a German submarine.

One of the worst blows to shipping, as a result of the German admiralty warning, is the fact that shipping insurance rates are certain to go "sky high" with consequent great damage to all neutral trade.
